STATE INQUIRES INTO OIL PRICES

SALES MANAGER EBIE STILL ON STAND IN HEARING TODAY

SALES BY THE STANDARD

Price Relations are Fully Gone into by State—Looney In Attendance

By Associated Press.

Dallas, Texas, June 19—Investigation of the causes of advancing oil prices in Texas occupied much of the time of the morning session of today's hearing of the Texas $99 100,000 oil penalty case

Much time was taken up in introducing documentary evidence in the form of letters without explaining their contents Attorney General R F. Looney for the first time since the hearings began today was present He did not "sit in" as an active examining attorney for the State, but as a spectator He studied the proceedings closely

E. C. Ebie, head of the Magnolia sales department, resumed the witness stand. He testified that prior to May 20, 1912 it was necessary to order Standard Oil products in carload lots to get the carload rates After that date he though, the rule was changed so that for example shipments from the Standard of New York or Indiana or the Vacuum Oil Company of Rochester, New York, could be mixed in the same car The state developed this testimony in line with the contention there is an advantage in buying Standard Oil products because the purchaser can have the same oil shipped from one of several points according to which point has the best freight rates

Ebie is Unwilling.

Ebie testified he does not believe the Magnolia has placed many such mixed orders Assistant Attorney General Sweeton asked if the Magnolia used the same Standard Oil code book in ordering from various Standard Oil companies. Mr. Ebie did not know. He said the Magnolia has only one Standard code book in his department and he had this book only a few weeks Assistant Attorney General Sweeton asked if the price paid by Mr Ebie's department at the refinery for oil is controlled by the price the refinery can get at Sabine, Texas, f. o b. Ebey repeatedly refused to say a positive 'yes' to this and similar questions, but finally said the Sabine price was "approximately the basis." A letter was put in evidence from E R Brown to the refinery advising Ebie that a certain grade of gasoline should be advanced in price "in line with prices in the east." Ebie explained that this was a grade the Magnolia had largely stopped handling

Sweeton asked if the reason for allowing eastern prices to control this grade was that the Magnolia handled so little of it as not to care to make its own price Ebie could not say as to that

Yesterday afternoon the session opened with an investigation of salaries paid by the Magnolia company to about seventy-five employes who formerly worked for the Pierce-Fordyce Association

Mr Sweeton asked Mr Ebie whether these former Pierce-Fordyce men were all given increased salaries by the Magnolia Witness replied that he did not known.

Asked whether "after securing about seventy Pierce-Fordyce men" the Magnolia began a system of cut rates over the State, Ebie replied

"Not that I know."

Ebie explained that cuts were made at some points in Texas by the Magnolia under Pierce Fordyce This, he said, in part was to equalize prices in certain localities

A Contract Cancelled.

Witness admitted the Magnolia on May 1, 1912, cancelled a contract to deliver gasoline and naptha to Pierce-Fordyce and refused thereafter to sell these oils to Pierce-Fordyce

"And since that date," said Sweeton, "the price of all oils has been steadily increasing in Texas"

"Yes" answered Ebie

He denied that the Magnolia had always led in these advances but said Magnolia led in some cases He admitted writing a letter to E R Brown of Corsicana, saying the Magnolia led in the advance

This letter to Brown however, did not specify that all advances were made by the Magnolia It pointed out that at some points the Magnolia's competitors in Texas were three weeks behind the Magnolia in raising prices Ebie explained the advances saying they did not originate with his department, the sales organization, but with the refinery and that he had seldom seen such an uncertain oil market as during the past year

Ebie named a list of oils handled by the Magnolia from either Standard Oil companies or allied concerns He said the Pierce-Fordyce association handles some of these same oils and no other companies in Texas to his knowledge handles them He denied any knowledge of whether the Pierce-Fordyce people would be unable as the state asserted to deal in these oils after their present contracts for them expire

Dropping Standard Products.

Mr Ebie added that the Magnolia is dropping the handling of these Standard Oil products saying

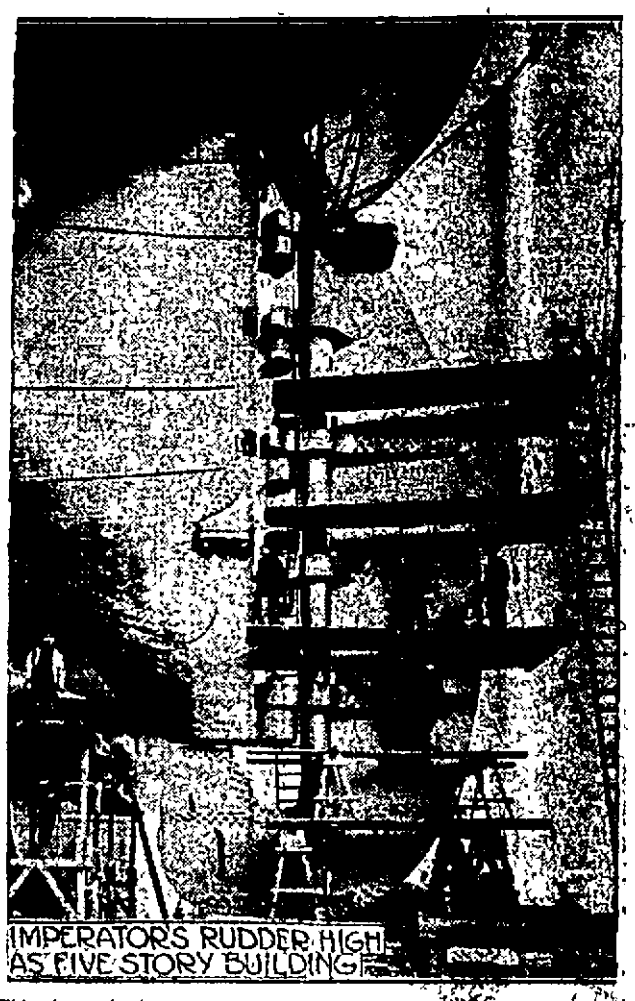
Huge Rudder of Giant Imperator, Upon Which Safety of Biggest Ship Depends



This shows the huge rudder of the giant Imperator, the biggest liner afloat, which left Hamburg for New York on June 11 The mammoth steering apparatus is nearly fifty feet high and made of great sheets of steel Over half a dozen men could stand on each other's shoulders beside it and still the top man would not be able to reach the top of the rudder The Imperator is about seventy-five feet longer than the ill fated Titanic

The steamship Imperator the giant of the seas completed her maiden voyage last night, arriving off the Sandy Hook bar at one hour and twelve minutes before midnight The new Hamburg American liner, the largest ship afloat, crossed from Europe in the unofficial time of six days eighteen hours and eight minutes She left Cherbourg France last Thursday afternoon and tomorrow morning at Hoboken, N J will lie at her first American berth She was anchored last night at quarantine

The Imperator is a $6 500 000 liner 900 feet in length, ninety six feet beam, 103 feet in height and accommodating 5,000 passengers She displaces 50,000 tons Her speed is set at twenty two and a half knots an hour

The steamship Imperator—the largest ship in the world—measures 919 feet in length ninety eight feet in beam and has a tonnage of 50 000 Her quadruple turbines develop an average speed of twenty two and one half knots making it possible to arrive at London and Paris on the sixth day and Hamburg on the seventh day out from New York The mast's measure 246 feet from keel to topmast her bridge is ninety feet above the water while her funnels extend sixty nine feet above the upper deck with openings thirty two feet in length by eighteen feet in width

The Imperator has eighty three life boats including two motor boats Special cranes permit the launching of many of the boats from either side

The upper or sun deck of the Imperator (A deck) which is nine decks above the water line is largely devoted to the recreation of the passengers A large and completely equipped photographic darkroom, situated on this deck is placed at the disposal of the passengers. Near by is the Telefuken Wireless Telegraph station, attended by three operators, one of whom is always on duty at the key This wireless station is sufficiently powerful to enable the ship to keep within direct communication with land throughout the Atlantic crossing

The next deck (B deck) is occupied almost entirely by the public rooms, which are large and luxuriously appointed The deck is completely surrounded by a broad promenade similar to that of the sun deck

A third promenade will be found on the deck below (C deck) This deck is devoted to the staterooms and the larger private suites The largest of these, the imperial suite, comprises twelve rooms and a private veranda deck

The next deck (D deck) is also occupied exclusively by staterooms All of these decks are unusually well supplied with bathrooms In the first cabin alone there are not less than 229 regular baths and showers, including 146 private bathrooms

The conspicuous feature of the next deck (E deck) is the upper portion or gallery of the main dining room This room occupies two decks and seats all of the first cabin passengers at one time It is sumptuously decorated

On the deck below (F deck) is the main floor of the dining room, which extends the width of the ship The dining saloon accommodates over 600 persons

The Imperator is constructed with an inner hull extending above the waterline which makes her a ship within a ship In the event of any accident to the outer skin, the hull would still remain seaworthy The ship is divided by steel bulkheads into seven watertight compartments which are again subdivided by the inner hull and double sides into thirty six watertight compartments several of which may be completely flooded without affecting the ship She carries two powerful motor boats which could take all the lifeboats in tow The motor boats are equipped with wireless apparatus working over a radius of 200 miles

TARIFF REVENUE TO BE INCREASED

SENATE COMMITTEE ADDS NEARLY $5,000,000 TO BILL OF OF HOUSE

TO BE DUTY ON BANANAS

This is Expected to Earn Much for Government—Will Hold Caucus Tomorrow

By Associated Press

Washington, June 19—Democratic members of the Senate finance committee who have completed their revision of the rate schedules in the Underwood tariff bill making many reductions in nearly every schedule and additions to the free list, declare the total of their alterations will increase the estimated revenue to be derived from the bill, as it passed the House, by more than $5,000,000

The bulk of this increase has been provided by taking bananas from the free list and making them dutiable at five cents a bunch on the ground that they are controlled absolutely by a monopoly, and by the repeal of an act which exempted brandies used in fortifying wines from the full internal revenue tax of $1 10 a gallon

It is estimated these two changes will bring an annual revenue of about $9,000,000 Majority Leader Kern today sent out a call for all Democratic senators to attend the party caucus tomorrow The majority of the finance committee continued work today on the administrative section of the bill.

EMPIRE EXPRESS FIGHT TO BE CARRIED HIGHER

Contest Between New Concern and Railroad Promises To Be of Interest

Dallas, Texas, June 19—With the Greenville court order to go into effect within two days, the case of the Empire Express against the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway Wednesday presented a new aspect It was generally conceded in express and railroad circles that the civil court of appeals would be presented with a petition for a hearing in the case This action will be taken by the attorneys of the road, if it comes at all, and will be done either Wednesday or Thursday.

This reported action on the part of the railroad will be another step in fighting a case that promises to be a notable one The Empire Express Company began the fight when they asked the Greenville court to order the M K & T railway to accept their business, as they both operated under state rulings Jas C Fargo, president of the American Express Company, then enjoined both companies from doing business with one another, taking his case in the district federal court. The Greenville court decided first in favor of the Empire Express and a few days later the federal court removed the Fargo injunction on the same grounds taken by the state court This left the order mentioned above to take effect on the 20th or thereafter, according to the pleasure of the Empire Express Company

The civil court of appeals will act upon the state case, which is to order the railroad to accept the business of the new express company on an equal footing with that of other companies Three situations now present themselves Should the appellate court deny the railroad a right to a hearing the case could be carried to the supreme court. If the case goes to the higher court with the order of the Greenville court approved by the court of appeals, their order goes into effect and the Empire Express will be able to begin business should they so desire If the civil court of appeals reverse the order of the Greenville court then it will be the Empire Express Company who will be obliged to carry the case to the supreme court The decision of that court would settle the matter as far as the state courts are concerned

PURE FOOD GUARANTEE, SAID TO BE VALUELESS

Means Little Protection For the Consumer, But Saves Dealer From Prosecution

Mobile, Ala, June 19—The words "guaranteed under the food and drugs act," on a label are no assurance that the contents of a package are pure, according to Dr Carl L. Alsberg, chief of the bureau of chemistry, who spoke here before the association of American Food Dairy and Drug officials Dr Alsberg was speaking of the limitations of the federal bureau under the federal pure food law, appealing for closer co-operation between federal and state authorities and for uniformity of laws of states based on the national laws

The food and drugs act, Dr Alsberg asserted, 'not only does not give the department of agriculture power to act in many vitally important matters but actually prohibits its intervention in many things that call aloud for immediate remedy. The people at large do not understand the limitations under which we act"

Dr Alsberg explained that the word 'guaranteed on a can of soup or on a bottle of nerve tonic did not mean that the bureau of chemistry had seen and anlyzed, but that the manufacturers put it on simply with the idea of protecting the jobber or retailer All that the guarantee legend does, he said, is to make it possible to prosecute the manufacturer if the goods were found to be in violation of the foods and drug act

PUBLIC SERVICE VALUES HIGHER

RAILROADS AND OTHERS ARE INCREASED BY COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

LOCAL CONCERNS HIGHER

Water, Light and Traction Companies' Valuations Are Materially Advanced

A general "revision upward" of valuations of public service corporation property in this county was ordered by the county commissioners, sitting as a board of equalization. The railroads, water and light and traction companies and the telephone company all saw their assessments materially advanced. The increases were reduced somewhat after protests, but in nearly every instance the new figure was substantially higher than last years.

The Fort Worth & Denver which paid taxes on $307,955 last year, was valued at $393,240 this year; the Denver is assessed on 32.77 miles of road at $12,000 per mile. The Wichita Valley was assessed $8000 per mile on 10.73 miles or $85,840, the same as last year. The Wichita Falls and Oklahoma won a reduction from $8000 to $7000 per mile on its 3.55 miles of track, the total being cut from $28,400 to $24,850.

The Katy proper pays no taxes here, but the three roads which it operates, the Wichita Falls Railway, the Northwestern, and the Southern, are listed separately. The Wichita Falls railways 4.67 miles of track are assessed at $37,470 per mile or $175,785, as compared with $112,360 last year. The Southern was not increased, its valuation being $25,410 or $7000 per mile on 3.63 miles of track. The Northwestern will pay on 16.53 miles of track at $12,205 per mile or $201,745, as compared with $192,000 last year.

This year the railroads pay taxes on a mileage basis alone. For instance, there is no direct tax on the Northwestern shops, but their value is added to that of the other railroad property and the whole assessed at so much per mile.

The traction company's property was subjected to a tremendous increase, being from $32,920 in 1912 to $150,000 this year.

The Wichita Falls Water Company is assessed on $61,960 and the Wichita Falls Electric Company $113,040 a total of $185,000. Last year when these two were one concern, the total valuation being $100,000.

The Western Union Telegraph Company's valuation is $10,000, same as in 1912. The Southwestern Telegraph & Telephone Company was less fortunate, its increase being from $37,500 to $99,500.

B. M. Bullard, who is officiating as tax assessor in the absence of John Robertson, is now at work totalling up the assessments as revised by the commissioners, and the figures will be available before long. It is known that there has been a marked increase.

YOUNG MAN IS INJURED IN FIGHT AT STOCK YARDS

Taken To Sanitarium With Broken Jaw and Other Injuries—Assailant Escapes

A young fellow by the name of Palmer was struck in the mouth with a monkey wrench in a melee out near the stock yards yesterday afternoon and his injuries are so serious that he was taken to a sanitarium for treatment. Very little can be learned of the fight, but nurses at the Wichita Falls Sanitarium, where he is now confined, say that the man is so badly injured about the mouth that he cannot talk.

Young Palmer is a nephew of the railroad contractor of that name. His jawbone is broken, one lip nearly cut off and his face badly bruised. Officer Frank Burns chased another man for a considerable distance, in an effort to arrest him but the fugitive got away. Palmer is thirty years of age.

OATH CASE ON TRIAL IN THE COUNTY COURT

Absence of Witnesses Causes Delay This Morning—Eight on Stand Wednesday

The case of the State of Texas vs T. R. T. C. Huff, the case was postponed until 1:30 this afternoon.

County Attorney Boone is prosecuting the case. The personnel of the jury is as follows: E. V. Friberg, J. F. Head, J. D. Hurley, J. H. Haywood, Henry Bommaker, W. A. Soule.

EXPLORE CAVERNS AND DISCOVER CUPID

Luray, Va., June 19.—Descending beneath the surface of the earth, Dr W. H. Jenkins, of Roanoak, Va., came up a benedict. Miss Lethia Phipps of Newport News, Va., at the same time cast off spinsterhood and the two left today as bride and groom for a honeymoon in the East.

Dr. Jenkins and Miss Phipps were exploring the Luray caverns when they decided to marry. A minister was summoned and with the tinkle of the trickling waters as their wedding music, the ceremony was performed.

SAYS BENCH NOT ABOVE CRITICISM

RIGHT OF PRESS TO COMMENT ON JUDICIARY IS DISCUSSED

MAINTAINING OF DIGNITY

Iowa Federal Judge Addresses Editors On Relations of Newspapers To Bench

By Associated Press.

Colorado Springs, Colo., June 19.—"No judge has ever yet maintained his dignity and never will by bringing an editor before the court and punishing him because of animadversions made through the columns of the newspaper.

"It would be helpful to the courts if editors of learning and character would in a dignified and intelligent manner discuss the rulings of the courts, whether by commendation or whether by adverse criticism."

These statements were made by Smith McPherson, United States District Judge, Southern District of Iowa, which was read before the National Press Association today. Judge McPherson did not attend the meeting of the association. In his paper, which was entitled "Liberty of the Press," he discussed in a general way the relations that should exist between the courts and the newspapers.

"Intelligent criticism is invited," said Judge McPherson. "Slang and vituperation are despised by the judge, and as I believe by the intelligent of the public. Substantial and honest and matured criticism is of a great aid to the courts, as well as an educator to the public. Criticism at random tends to make a judge careless. Criticism on newspapers should be of a kind, and none other, than the editor would use in conversation with the judge. Then there would be no bitterness, but a useful exchange of views. And with such criticism, progress will be made, because such criticism is within the limits of 'freedom of the press,' and not a mere license for which there is no remedy and no resulting good. Let editors and writers be gentlemanly toward the judges. And let judges have a due regard to the freedom of the press. The public will then be the beneficiaries."

In the beginning of his paper, Judge McPherson said he wished the relationship between the courts and the press were more fair and sincere than it is.

Mentions Roosevelt Case.

"The freedom of the press is one of the institutions of this country, and as such will ever exist, and rightly so," he continued. "And no one believes in this more than do the courts. It was but recently that the courts righteously, against tariff pressure, prevented the dragging of editors, one of them nearly a thousand miles, to make answer to an alleged libel. One recital in the declaration of independence against England, was to the effect that Americans were carried beyond seas for trial. When a court in Washington City, backed by strong presure and great power, sought to drag a New York city and an Indianapolis editor to Washington City, because of editorials with reference to the Panama Canal, it was the courts that stamped it as an outrage, and decreed that such oppression could not exist in a free country. The literature found in the published reports of the courts show that the newspapers their editors and publishers, will not plead in vain for protection by courts. This protection will be given because it is just that it should be so. And the courts should be fairly considered by the press.

"In speaking of the press, I have but little to say about the scandal-mongers and the so-called 'yellow journals.' They are outlaws, and are entirely beyond the pale of respect by the courts and decent citizens generally. We judges have no remedy as against them. It is idle to talk about bringing actions, either civil or criminal, for libel, because such actions are expensive and usually ludicrous if not farcial. Most newspapers, like most men, are sincere as to their utterances. Their unfair criticisms come from lack of information. They are too impatient to strike.

Not Beyond Criticism

"In speaking of the relations that do, or ought to, exist between the newspapers and the courts, there are a number of fundamental errors, which, like cobwebs, should be brushed away. One of these errors is in the fact that a great many of the judges seriously believe that because they wear the robes of office, they are and should be beyond criticism. That is fallacy. I believe as much as does anyone in maintaining the dignity of the courts. But a judge must command respect in some other way than by making this argument. He cannot command respect by becoming a recluse, nor by wearing a silk hat or a morning frock coat, or a white tie, or by speaking in guttural tones of voice."

Judge McPherson then gave in detail his ideas of a judge, told how they are sometimes criticized, and continued: "Every time a judge holds a city ordinance or a state statute void, excitement follows, and the 'head' of the judge is demanded for the basket. We are accused of making laws; we are accused of legislating; we are accused of having no respect for the city councils or legislatures. If we judges are wrong in thus holding city ordinances or statutes to be void, the press ought to show the people where we are wrong.

"Instead of berating the judge as being in some indefinite way related to the 'interests,' controlled by railroad attorneys, or in a close fellowship with the money trust, so-called; why is it that the press does not show by arguments that the decision overthrowing wrong, by presenting the reasons why the ordinance or statute is not in conflict with the constitution of the United States? How many of you gentlemen write such editorials? Some of you do, and some of you do not. We all know that such cases can rightly be carried to the supreme court of the United States, and whatever may be the decision of the great court, all persons of all classes cheerfully yield obedience.

Alien Land Law

"Take the recent enactment in the state of California with reference to their alien statutes as despects the holding of real estate. I have no information as to whether that statute is in conflict with the treaty between this country and Japan, or not. But can any man doubt what an honest and courageous will hold, if the case brought before him presents the question, and such court finds there is a conflict between the statute and the treaty, as to which shall give way? Can California or any other one state ride down a treaty between this country and Japan? I only say this for an illustration, and not as an expression of an opinion with reference to the merits of California legislation. But the constitution of the United States says that this constitution and all treaties made thereunder shall be the supreme law of the land, and if a statute and treaty are in conflict, that which is supreme must prevail over that which is not supreme."

Judge McPherson said the better class of newspapers and magazines of the country are often of great aid to the courts in bringing about desired reforms and court procedure.

Continuing, he declared that there are too many receiverships, with attorneys for the complaining party directing the officers.

"The newspapers," he said, "as yet, with few exceptions, do not seem to have grasped this evil, real or supposed; sometimes it is a real evil, and sometimes it is only a supposed evil; but generally subjecting the courts to a harmful criticism. If this matter were given greater publicity and the reasons for and against receivers, the result would be for the public good, as well as for the good of interested parties.

Just Criticism Needed

"I repeat that it is the duty of all, including the newspapers, to be respectful to the courts and of aid to the courts in a decorous administration of public justice. But it is idle to talk to the effect that courts in their procedure are not subject to criticism. We talk about the science of law. It is a science, but an inexact science. For instance, the supreme court of the United States, with reference to the monopoly created by patents and the sale of patented articles under such monopoly, has within one year handed down two decisions, the results being opposite holdings, owing to the different makeup of the court. And so it is with reference to many other subjects. Judges, like other men of equal experience; equal in age, or equal in learning, equal in fairness of disposition, reach different conclusions. It is so in all business affairs of life, and it will ever be so, of course.

"The one weakness of the newspapers lies in the fact that too many newspapers predetermine a fixed policy of such paper, and determine in advance whether the holding of the courts, if one way or the other, shall be commended or disapproved, and then the matter is taken up by some editorial writer whose name is not known to the public.

"In speaking of courts, in the main, I have referred to the United States Courts. There are other abuses which, if fully exposed, would result for the better."

In this connection, Judge McPherson spoke of the treatment of jurors and favored greater liberty for them. He said there should be no greater occasion for having detectives follow jurors than to follow judges.

THREE CORNERED FIGHT IN SHOE SHINING PARLOR

Argument Over Shoe Polish Is Followed by Encounter and Arrests Are Made

Greek met Tartar in a three cornered fight in a shoe shining parlor on Indiana avenue this morning when Nick Papps and Nick Zavrupoolos met Morris Blank, another shoe shiner, in a three cornered fight over some shoe paste. Morris grabbed a hatchet out of the hand of Mr. Papps and knocked him down, it is alleged. Mr Zavrupoolos then mixed up in the affray and Morris knocked him down. Both got up and started into the fight again, when some American got into the game and threw Mr. Zavrupoolos out into the street. Mr. Zavrupoolos rushed back into the melee again and Morris again took on the double header. Officers arrived and arrested all three.

Officer McDonald took Papps to the court house and Officer Ed Carnes was waiting for Zavrupoolos to finish a half completed job so the customer could get out on the street. As the officer was waiting with Morris and Zavrupoolos in charge, Zavrupoolos denied having the hatchet in the first of the fight and this so angered Morris that he is said to have knocked the Greek down again.

Hence two charges of fighting against Morris and one each against Papps and Zavrupoolos.

As near as can be learned the beginning of the beginning was something like this. Two weeks ago Papps and Zavrupoolos borrowed nine boxes of polish of Morris. The polish was returned this morning and when Morris used some of the returned stuff he found he had ruined his customers' shoes. Morris went over to Papps and Zavrupoolos and demanded some better polish. Right after this demand was made and refused, events began to transpire with a frequency which made it impossible to keep track of the score.

All three will be tried tomorrow morning at ten o'clock.

MAY EXCEEDED APRIL IN CANAL EXCAVATION.

Washington, June 19.—The total amount of earth excavation from the Panama Canal in May was 2,779,532 cubic yards, against 2,653,995 cubic yards in April. The average daily output in May was 106,905 cubic yards against 102,077 in April.

Concrete laid in May totaled 41,482 cubic yards, against 55,785 cubic yards the previous month. There were twenty-six working days in May, as there were in April and exactly the same rainfall.

These figures were made public by the war department today.

Cooper—Ground has been broken for a modern three story brick hotel to cost $15,000. Work will be pushed on the structure in order to open the new hostelery by September 1.

GIANT SUBMARINES, BIG AS BATTLESHIPS, PLANNED FOR FUTURE; NEW UNDERSEA TEST

Washington, June 18.—Will the submarine eventually put the super Dreadnought out of business? This is a live topic just now for two reasons. The first is the decision of congress to build much larger undersea fighters. The second is the success of the Benton in setting a new record for staying under water at Long Beach, Cal. Although the pioneer in submarine navigation, the American navy has been outstripped by European engineers in the matter of size, speed and offensive power, John M Gage. The previous record of underwate craft. The navy department designers now are planning much larger and more formidable vessels of this type, and some of them predict the development of the submarine into a giant battleship that will replace Dreadnoughts in the first line of defense. They even contend those vessels would be able to disappear beneath the surface of the sea to escape a return fire after discharging their great twelve inch rifles at an enemy. The submarine Benton is a new type invented by for submarine submergence was made jointly by the Octopus and the Lake at Newport in May, 1907, when the two undersea craft stayed down for exactly twenty-four hours and came up with their crews elated. There had been twenty-three of them in the submarines and they stood the experience with no signs of wear. It was a new record for sustained life under the sea. Before that the record had been that established by the Fulton at New Suffolk, N. Y., in 1902, when the persons on board were down for seventeen hours.

Dr Elliott is authority for the statement that a classical education help a man to solve every problem of life and right on this statement we note by the Associated Press dispatches that of 700 members of a dish washers union of New York more than 100 of them are graduates of some of our most noted universities among them being Yale, Harvard and Princeton graduates They probably came to the conclusion that they were better fitted for dish washers than for anything else

If we are to believe what we see in the Waco Morning News edited by James Hayes Quarles formerly publicity agent for the A & M College the real reason for the resignation of President Milner of the A & M College was because he and Governor Colquitt did not think alike on several important matters concerning the conduct of that institution, and President Milner resigned to save himself of the humiliation of being removed by the governor, who wanted the position for some one of his political friends, probably Clarence Ousley or F M Bralley Another matter which largely helped President Milner in losing favor with the governor is his opposition to Senate Joint Resolution No 18, which many people in Texas, particularly those who are friendly toward the A & M College, believe that if adopted in July, will result in the removal of the A & M College from College Station to Austin The governor favors the adoption of the resolution

If the Observer's observations are correct, there are more disgruntled Democrats in Quanah and Hardeman county, three or four times over, than there are Republicans. The tariff is the cause of it. Every man whose pocket is hard hit by the proposed tariff—and also the prospects of tight money—has become a Republican in the making One can scratch any of a dozen business men of this city who have been consistent Democrats heretofore and they all make vehement (and sometimes profane) protest against the proposed revision of the tariff downward It's a plain case of whose ox is being gored and it seems to be the Democratic ox as well as the Republican critter —Quanah Observer

All of which may be true But this is a Democratic row and one that is not likely to reduce the Democratic majority in Hardeman county or in Texas to any great degree Democrats have learned to fight between voting times and when election time comes around vote the straight ticket. That is an old Republican trick or was up to the last election when the row that was started and pulled off was of such size as to keep most of them guessing which way to vote

The Wilson administration seems to be doing the right thing by the Democratic newspaper men of the country judging by the fact that so many of them are getting appointments to office and this is as it should be It was the newspapers all over the United States that bore the brunt of the battle The opposing forces had the money and the Democratic party had to depend on the newspapers for publicity and in raising campaign funds by far the greater portion of which was contributed in small amounts ranging from 25c up to $5 from each contribution Unless there is money with which to pay for speakers literature etc no political party can expect to gain a victory it matters not how just its principles may be and for sheer lack of funds the Democratic party has lost more than one presidential election It was different at the last election and almost every Democratic newspaper was called upon to solicit contributions which they did As a result all that was necessary to pay the legitimate expenses of the campaign was raised and without the assistance of the Democratic press this could not have been accomplished To this extent, at least the good work of the Democratic press is not being ignored.

The Texas & Pacific is to discontinue the plan of having auditors take up and punch tickets on its passenger trains, and it is said will save about $10,000 per month by so doing To us it looks like the right kind of move As understood by the general traveling public the auditors were put on to relieve the conductors of handling the cash fares, not because the conductors objected to performing this service or were [illegible] an idea [illegible] auditor would turn in more cash fares than the conductor It has finally dawned on them the placing of auditors on passenger trains was a needless expense The conductors draw the same salaries as before, and inasmuch as they were being relieved of the big half of their work they had no kick coming to them, but the public was paying for this entirely unnecessary expense Now if the roads will only trim the operating expense account a little here and there—and some of it could be cut by cutting the salaries of the brass collar officials who perform little or no service in return for the high salaries they receive, the roads might discover where they could reduce the passenger rate from 3c to 2c per mile and still make good interest on the investments

(St Louis Mirror)

Criticism of B F Yoakum and his associates in the Frisco railroad for its bankruptcy is as bitter as it is ill informed. What did Yoakum do for the Frisco? He gave his life to it There was not a harder working, a more intensely devoted railroad man in the United States He not only worked for the system but for the territory it served There was no railroad magnate—not even James J Hill—closer to the people of his region more in sympathy with them, than B F Yoakum He wanted to make not only a great railroad but a great Southwest He went about it in the way that men had always gone He took in every thing that he could to strengthen the system He entered upon the program at a time when prospects were that he was doing the right thing and that he would earn the interest on the debts he was incurring in expansion When he was doing it, the bankers were only too anxious to get in on the obligations he was incurring They wanted his securities They saw things as he saw them He was a great constructive railroad man There was no condemnation then of the enormous interests he was undertaking to pay on his bonded indebtedness The man had a splendid faith in the country Its growth would pull him through and the money lenders would get their interest He was working like a navvy at his job He was out on the line, addressing exchanges talking to farmers writing magazine articles interviewing bankers today and trackwalkers tomorrow

The road was getting business and plenty of it. Its staff was one of the very best in the country It was a staff loyal to B. F. When he began upbuilding and borrowing times were good But times began to get bad. Not in the territory the Frisco served, but in the East. The Frisco was an earner It was a good proposition, as good as, better than, ever But the men who told him to go ahead now began to tell him that he couldn't go ahead They couldn't let him have any more money A lot of money was raised in France for him—at a bonus. There was no deception in the statements upon which the money was raised The people who floated the loan were experienced financiers who knew what they were doing, knew every outstanding obligation of the road The road's statement was freely discussed in all the courses Kicking Banker Speyer's partner Winterfelt was in on the board and knew all about all that was done, Yoakum was discounting the future every body knew that But money grew tighter and tighter and when Yoakum went to the bankers who had been glad to encourage his borrowing they hadn't a cent for him He wore himself to a frazzle begging at the doors of New York bankers

Then the receivership had to come Now there's talk that Yoakum will have to explain things To whom? Wall Street knew well what he was doing Wall Street was with him in what he was doing Wall Street approved it, or it wouldn't and couldn't have been done Yoakum was overtaken by things he had no control failing business in Texas due to disturbances in Mexico, enormous losses by flood general slackening of business. He had to surrender to the inevitable If any one thinks that B F Yoakum regards the status of the Frisco today with other than the feeling of a broken hearted man, that person is sadly mistaken The thought that Yoakum exploited the Frisco for himself is an insane thought His ambition of a lifetime is wrecked. He sees the hopes that sustained him in all its toils lying in ruin all around him He may have made mistakes but it is not mistakes that his critics have in mind but venalities Nothing that he might make could compensate him for the shattering of his dream of a great, dominating, midcontinental railway system spread like a sprawled hand over the heart of the country His faith is defeated by the lack of faith of those who were with him in fair weather times Of course, those who have lost their money in Frisco securities are 'sore" but they bought on the strength of the same faith and hope that Yoakum had That Yoakum took delight in "ruining" them is simply the thought of lunatics

Wha has happened has hit B. F Yoakum harder, has injured him deeper than is measurable by money I do not lack in sympathy for the losers especially the smaller investors, but I can't help feeling contempt for Wall Street money lenders who impute improper conduct to Yoakum now, after fawning on him for the favor of participation in his loans The Southwest is sorry for B F Yoakum in the crash of his big life work Only the usurers have words of criticism against him The future will vindicate the verity of Yoakum's splendid vision.

BURLESON DECLARES FOR BOND AMENDMENT

Austin Texas June 19—In a telegram from A S Burleson, postmaster general to Dr S E Mezes president of the University, congratulating of the success of the home-coming gathering he makes the following comment about the proposed educational bond issue I trust that this meeting will give an impetus to the bond issue which is so essential to the development and future welfare of our beloved institution the pride of every alumnus and friend of the University We should be enlisted to insure its adoption for it means a greater University one that will be a source of lasting benefit to our great State

PRESIDENT OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MAKES STATEMENT

Wichita Falls Texas June 19—To the Editor of the Times As there seems to be some question as to what action was taken by the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday relative to the proposed new wholesale grocery, will say that neither of the articles sets out our action correctly although I have no doubt that both parties intended to do so

When the Dallas gentlemen appeared before us and stated their mission here they stated that they wanted nothing of us except our moral support The chair stated that it was the policy of the Chamber of Commerce to encourage all legitimate enterprises and extend them a cordial welcome

A motion was made and seconded that an invitation be extended to the gentlemen to locate in our midst.

Another director said the matter should be referred to a committee but after brief discussion the original motion extending an invitation was carried unanimously

The merits of the proposed plan of organization were not passed upon by the directors, either favorably or adversely

I think our citizens should welcome this or any other new enterprise to our city but each one should decide for himself the propriety of investments

THE DANGER IN SECTION 18

In reply to questions of W P Kelly in Times of June 15

I do not believe that the people of Texas should be led away from the real dangers concealed in the Bond Amendment to the Constitution by either side of school men who are now leading the controversy I am a friend of the University and of the A. & M College also but prejudices and preferences for or against one or both of these institutions should certainly not control the free Texas citizen in his [illegible] struction of this dragnet the planners and plotters should have let in, with the various other provisions and baits for voters, one deadly provision that is quite sure to defeat their scheme entirely. This provision authorizes the Legislature to issue bonds for any sort of State institution, for anything that can be designated as "a State institution," without any limit whatever either as to amounts or rates of interest. If this Amendment carries at the polls the people's right to vote on all bond issues will be lost, and any future Legislature of Texas can proceed without limit to issue bonds for any and all of the existing State institutions, or can logroll and trade section with section city with city, lobbyist with lobbyist, or member with member and create a dozen or a hundred new State institutions and bond the people for them wholly without let or limit'

Nobody will deny that such is the case Governor Colquitt recognizes the scope of this dangerous provision when he says that bonds for the A & M College can be issued under it, and so does President Mezes in his recent contribution to the press

This very bad and extremely dangerous provision must be voted for if the rest are voted for To add it to the Constitution is to invite for Texas the old revel in extravagance and bankruptcy which Reconstruction legislature brought down upon Texas and other Southern States and from which several of them have never recovered.

To vote for this provision is to vote for precisely the same law that prevails in the Central and South American countries under which Governors and Generals and Presidents have for a century been bonding the people for millions and then absconding to Europe with the money to live in the richest luxury the rest of their lives

In this important matter we should all put aside our prejudices and preferences regarding schools as well as any unfriendly or jealous feelings we have toward each other This is not a contest between the University and the College It is a contest in which the people of Texas are being urged to surrender to the Legislatures, for all time to come the most important of all their powers—and in due time to surrender their credit and even their liberty

It is not necessary to do this We should vote down this Amendment and then have separate Amendments covering the bond issues properly presented If this is done they will carry overwhelmingly and no patriotic voter of Texas will have stultified himself by voting away his own power his own credit and his own safety as a free citizen R. A. CARPENTER

NO GAME WITH DENISON; FIELD IS DEEP IN MUD

Last At Home Series Starts Tomorrow—Other Notes of the Team and Circuit

Rain made playing at the City Park out of the question yesterday and at noon today it was doubtful if a game would be staged this afternoon, the field being very muddy No game this afternoon would throw the Drillers two games behind in their schedule with Denison, but nobody can play ankle-deep in mud

Tomorrow begins the last of the at home series Durant coming for three games Monday the team takes to the road again, going to Denison and Durant, thence over the eastern half of the circuit The team will not return until July 11 On July 4th there will be a double-header at Paris

Texarkana didn't do a thing to Sherman yesterday, shutting the Lions out in both games of a double-header Pate, the ex Dallasite who shut Wichita Falls out a week ago last Sunday, pitched both games for Texarkana.

Mathews was the first of the Drillers to suffer from the no smoking rule He was discovered on the shady side of the grandstand inhaling deep and delicious whiffs from a cigarette. So far he is the only one to fall from grace The rule forbids smoking in uniform on the grounds and a fifty cent fine is to be imposed for each violation

Ardmore has picked up considerably under the management of Brooks Gordon, having won four of the last five games Without the bad start which she had, Ardmore would be one of the first division contenders right now.

LEVIES ON POWER PLANT TO COLLECT FROM KATY

Shops at Denison Thrown Into Idleness When Lawyer Adopts Strenuous Measures

Denison, Texas, June 19—To satisfy a judgment of $11,000 that was granted to J W Odom through his attorney E J Smith, on November 11, 1911, a levy was made by Deputy Boyd Craig on the electric power plant of the local Katy shops The power plant was immediately closed down and all operations at the shops depending on electric power were stopped The workmen were let off and went home, pending settlement of the claim or the release of the machinery

By closing the power plant every workman in the car shop and mechanical shop was thrown out of work and all electric power furnished for purposes at the Union station Ray yards and the local shops was cut off, causing a suspension of work of several hundred men The power plant is located near the large boiler rooms at the car shops and consists of several powerful dynamos and generators, the most powerful and costly on the system. These machines not only furnish power to erate the extensive shops here, to also furnish the electricity lighting the local yards and tim treating plant.

The large turntable at the shops which is operated by a dynamo was run today by about seventy five men who used ropes, cables and pinch bars to turn the engines

The levy was caused by a judgment given J W Odom an employe who was injured and received judgment on November 11, 1911 After the judgment was given the railroad company appealed the case to the court of appeals on a writ of error which was refused and inter was taken to the supreme court of the United States and after examination of the records and considering the application for a writ it was refused a week ago Upon refusal of writ the proper papers for a levy were issued for the amount to cover the judgment and six per cent interest from the date judgment was given

Tuesday afternoon Deputy Sheriff Craig presented the papers to J W Butte, local agent for the Katy for payment, and again the papers were presented After they were presented and no check was received Deputy Sheriff Craig accompanied Attorney E J Smith to the shops where a levy was made on the power plant, machinery which belongs to the company

N L Smitham, assistant superintendent of motive power, says he endeavored to prevail on the officer to levy on some portion of the Katy's property other than the power plant, but was unsuccessful in his efforts

The Katy filed a bond shortly before noon covering the sale cost of the machinery that the levy made against, the sale date being set for June 28, and started the machinery at noon All shopmen returned to work at 1 o clock

ONE MORE GOOD RAIN IS NEEDED FOR COTTON

M A Bundy Says Wheat Crop Will be More than at First Estimated

M A Bundy, agent of the Fort Worth & Denver and who keeps close tab on crop conditions says that nothing can head off the cotton in this section—that a big crop is now assured Mr Bundy says that all corn needs to make a bumper crop is one good rain about three weeks from now Milo maize and Mr corn could not look better Mr Bundy says and the biggest forage crop in the history of the county will be grown this year

I have been reporting the wheat yield from ten to fifteen bushels per acre said Mr Bundy but I have lately talked with a number of threshermen and they all say that the average yield is over fifteen bushels. The wheat yield is much better than I thought it would be although I had studied the fields and reports carefully I find that nearly everyone underestimated the wheat yield

But if this rain keeps up much longer there is going to be damage to the wheat crop said Mr Bundy the grain will start growing in the shock unless dry weather follows these late rains we have had and the quality of the grain will be damaged if any more rain falls on it any time soon

500 Yards of Messaline at Nearly Half Price

The Railroad Company Pays the Difference

We had 500 yards of beautiful new yard-wide messaline satin come to us Wednesday in a slightly soiled condition, due to the fact that the railroad company permitted the package to get wet on the end. The railroad company stood the loss, therefore the gain is yours.

Friday morning, at nine o'clock, we shall place the lot on sale at per yard 63c

The shipment includes eight of the newest shades, red, Copenhagen blue, old rose, golden rod, champagne, American beauty, tan and gray. The goods are full 36 inches wide, of a very fine grade, and sell every where for $1.00 per yard. Some of the pieces are but slightly soiled on one end, others are not damaged at all. The opportunity to buy them at 63c per yard is a rare one and is made possible only because the railroad pays the difference. Don't miss this great opportunity.

Remember, if you want some of this messaline at the bargain price you must be on hand promptly at nine o'clock Friday morning. It is a snap and will not last long, so it is advisable to come early

Opinion of the United States Supreme Court

Rendered on Bank Overdrafts

"A usage to allow customers to overdraw and have their checks and notes charged up without present funds in the bank, stripped of all technical disguise, the usage and practice, thus attempted to be sanctioned, is a usage and practice to misapply the funds of the bank; and to connive at the withdrawal of same, without any security, in favor of certain privileged persons. Such a usage and practice is surely a manifest departure from the duty, both of the directors and cashier, as can not receive any countenance in a court of justice. It could not be supported by any vote of the directors, however formal; and therefore, whenever done by the cashier, is at his own peril and upon the responsibility of himself and his sureties. It is anything but 'well and truly executing his duties as cashier.'"

The above is an exact copy of decision of the United States Supreme Court.

We ask our customers and friends to be careful and not draw checks that will create overdrafts.

CIVIC WELFARE WORK FOR BOYS

GALVESTON ENLISTS THEM IN RAT-KILLING CRUSADE AND GETS RESULTS

JUVENILE COURT EMPTY

Boys Enter Into Work Seriously and Search of Rodents Keeps Them Busy

Special to The Times.

Galveston, Texas, June 19.—The problem of enlisting the small boy in civic welfare has been well solved in Galveston. A mammoth and perplexing problem to any municipality, the small boy has been more than this to this seaport city. For many years the boy was left to shift for himself with the result that numbers of little fellows were brought into the corporation court every morning charged with offenses ranging from trivial to criminal. A juvenile court was established and for a time this seemed to have the effect of lessening the offenses. A school for the youthful delinquents was built at Seabrook, and in a very short time the school was filled to overflowing. The listeners at the trials of these boys heard thousands of excuses for the offenses committed, which came every one from the one source—idleness. Interested men began to look about for a means to employ the boys and to keep them busy with work of a nature helpful to the municipality.

The boys were found to have well organized gangs with leaders and officers regularly elected and installed. They played in gangs, loafed in gangs and committed offenses in gangs. Often a gang would go bathing in the gulf and if one member was caught in the undertow and washed ashore dead, there appeared no member of his gang to identify the body and the police would establish identification only through adults who might know the boy's relatives. The problem was, How can these gangs be put to work? The gang instinct being strong, there was no hope for the extraction of individuals, but the entire organization must be interested and employed. Men asserted the belief that if the boys were given work and were made to believe that a real and definite responsibility rested on them, they would be converted into a means of much good for the commonwealth.

Gangs are Organized.

The location of Galveston is superb for a revival of the Pied Piper of Hamelin stunt. The water was here, the rats were here and the stage was all set. But no Pied Piper appeared. Some one thought of the small boy, the gangs and other boys' organizations of a higher class, and a well arranged method of enlisting them in a war against rats was agreed upon.

The city commission authorized payment of four cents for every rat caught and killed by a boy or a gang of boys. The matter was carefully placed before the leaders of the various gangs. The result exceeded fondest hopes. Rats were brought in by bunches. The gangs took the lead in the campaign and were the first to register rats at headquarters. The Boy Scouts next enlisted and finally hundreds of individual boys were on the trail of rodents. A rat is a rare sight in Galveston now. The boys have scoured the city and the adjacent country and have well cleared this territory of the pest. If the famous Pied Piper could have viewed the result of this work he would have blushed with shame. The city commission has actually paid to the boys enlisted in the rat campaign more than one thousand dollars for dead rats delivered to the city incinerator.

Results Soon Evident.

The most remarkable feature of the clean-up was the work of the gangs. Silently and seriously they scoured the water front, going beneath piers and sheds in quest of their prey. They delivered more dead rats to the incinerator than all the rest of enlisted boys combined. And the number of cases in court against boys has been reduced to almost none, while from the school at Seabrook comes the advice that there is now room for many more boys. The rats being scarce, the boys are seeking new employment. They have learned what it means to accomplish something really worth while. The next campaign, in which the boys will be enlisted, will be the cleaning up of vacant space throughout the entire city, including the alleys in the negro sections. Every gang has ceased operations of an offensive nature and are eager for the fray in behalf of a cleaner and more beautiful city. Galveston has learned that the small boy finds enjoyment in employment as well as do men.

AUSTIN MAY COLLECT ON INSURANCE SECURITIES

City Files Suit To Collect Taxes On Bonds Deposited In State Treasury

Austin, Texas, June 19.—Suit has been filed in the Fifty-third District Court in behalf of the city of Austin against the Guarantee Life Insurance Company of Houston for $4000 taxes and $200 penalty, alleged to be due on $100,000 securities deposited in the State treasury for the years 1908 and 1909. These securities are required to be deposited by all insurance companies doing business in Texas, and the city of Austin claims that they are subject to taxation. The companies assert that inasmuch as taxes are paid on the securities in the city and county where the home office is located, to require them to pay tax in Austin would be double taxation, which the law does not authorize.

Prior to the act of 1909 the law was silent as to where such securities should be taxed, but the Thirty-first Legislature in amending the act provided that they should be taxed in the city and county where the principal office is located. It is for the years 1908 and 1909 that the city of Austin is asserting claim for the taxes due it.

The Commissioner of Insurance has ruled that the securities are not subject to taxation in Austin. He holds that even before there was any expression made by the Legislature on the subject that it was the intention of the law-making authority that they should be rendered for taxation in the cities of their principal offices, in accordance with which the companies did render and pay the taxes due.

There are on deposit with the State treasurer now about $4,000,000 in securities deposited by the several companies doing business in the State.

(Petroleum Gazette)

Returning practically to their original plans in the matter, the ladies of Chaudoin Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution, are now having their preliminary work done preparatory to placing a monument at the site of the old Drake well. A number of years ago, after they had informally decided upon plans similar to the present ones, the ladies were persuaded to undertake a much more ambitious effort, involving plans whose carrying out would have cost something like $100,000, including the monument and proposed boulevard to extend from this city to it. This proved too great an undertaking, as did also the plan taken up last year to move a giant native boulder from the hillside north of town to the site of the well.

Now the plans substantially as first considered are taken upto be carried out. They are patterned after what is called the Toppler monument at Rotenburg, near Nuremburg in Bavaria, and contemplate a base eleven feet in height, nearly circular but slightly oval in form, about twenty-five feet in its greatest diameter, surmounted by a native boulder six feet in thickness, making the full height of the monument about seventeen feet. On two sides of the boulder will be bronze tablets, one bearing an inscription of the well's history and the other a reproduction of the well as shown in the first photographs of it. Mrs. S. A. Emery, widow of the late David Emery, has contributed for the purposes of the monument the ground on which the well stands; L. K. Edgett, owner of the well and Edwin C. Bell, trustee of the Drake Memorial Museum, has turned over the plot of land coming within a few feet of the well, together with a driveway right, as donated with this piece of land by Messrs. James and John Preston and S. Q. Wilson.

This land taves in the historic pine tree which has served up to this time as the only marking of the spot where the well is located, and, with the ground donated by Mrs. Emery, will make a little park around the well. In preparing for the foundation work for the monument the heavy pine cribbing of the old pit will be removed and turned over to the Drake Museum, to be converted into mementoes. For the work to be done the ladies are asking the original subscribers to pay one-third of the amount of their subscriptions and they report that the responses have been gratifying. Oil men will be pleased to know that the old well itself is not to be destroyed and that from the top of it, incased in cement will be seen a section of the pipe preserved from that originally used in the well, and pulled when the larger pipe was submitted.

Pecos—A committee representing the Commercial Club after an inspection of the farms in the vicinity of Balmorhea, Saragosa, Hoban and Pecos reported that the small grain crop will be larger than ever before and that the first cutting of alfalfa is making from one to two tons per acre.

SQUABBLE OVER COLONEL GOETHALS TO BE AIRED AT WHITE HOUSE; HONOR OLD OREGON

Washington, June 19.—Rumors of dissension in the Panama Canal commission over Colonel Goethals, chief engineer of the canal, created wide interest in his visit to the White House. It was announced that Col Goethals would ask President Wilson to back him up in his administration of canal affairs. On the other hand, it was said some members of the commission would seek to get the colonel out on the ground that he was too domineering. It was predicted here that the president would try to smooth matters over so that Colonel Goethals would stay till the canal was opened. The first ship will probably go through before the end of the year, Colonel Goethals declares. The people of Oregon have petitioned congress to send the old battleship Oregon, condemned to share the fate of the old San Marcos as a naval practice target, through the canal at the head of the first battleships to go through. This will likely be done. The Oregon is shown in the illustration with one of the great Gatun locks and Colonel Goethals.

DENIES THAT GOVERNOR ASKED MILNER TO QUIT

President of A. and M. Board of Directors Contradicts Recently Published Statement

Houston, Texas, June 19.—E. H. Cushing, president of the A. & A. board of directors has given out the following:

"My attention has been called to an article in which it is charged that the resignation of Col. R. T. Milner from the presidency of the Agricultural and Mechanical College was brought about by Governor Colquitt for the purpose of making a place for some of his political friends.

"But for the fact that silence might be misinterpreted by some persons as an admission of the truth of this statement, reply would be unnecessary. The plain facts are that when the board informed Governor Colquitt of Col. Milner's intended resignation, he admonished the board to be careful in the selection of a man for this place, expressing the opinion that an educator of broad and extensive experience should be selected. To use almost his exact words:

"'If I were choosing a man for that place, I would comb this country to find the man that was best fitted for that particular line of work. That institution is one of great potential good and much depends on the man who is at the head of it.'

"The governor made it plain to the board that the responsibility for the selection of a man for this position rested with the board, and that he would expect them to assume this burden, and therefore he could not fairly make a suggestion to the board even if he was so disposed, which he was not. This conversation took place during a call which the board in a body made upon the governor after leaving the office of Secretary of State where they qualified and received their commission, and this was only an incident to general conversation in regard to affairs of the college. Any member of the board will verify the correctness of this statement and will testify that Governor Colquitt did not attempt to use any influence with the board in this matter; on the contrary his position fully maintained his reputation for broad-minded statesmanship.

"In connection with this matter it may serve a good purpose at this time to say that the various rumors in circulation and published daily as to the selection of a man for the presidency of the Agricultural & Mechanical College are unauthorized and unfounded. The directors of this institution fully realize the necessity of making a proper selection for the presidency thereof. No one has been selected, nor will selection be made until the field is thoroughly gone over and the service of the very best man available will be secured."

of the people who take medicine do not know whether Phenacetine is made in Germany or grows wild in Kansas. They do not know whether Chloretone is indicated in Typho-Malaria or a specific for disappointed affections. They do not know whether Homatropine is worth fifty cents a grain or two dollars a barrel. They do not know these things and will never know because it takes half of a lifetime to learn them. So you are at the mercy of the man who fills your prescriptions both as to quality and price. However we think the man who would take advantage of your not knowing to charge you too much or give you inferior drugs in your prescriptions would take your purse if opportunity offered.

Our prescription department is the pride of the business and is on the square. Give us a chance to show you.

It is only natural that a powder which soothes and refreshes your skin will bring comfort and beauty.

No housewife would think of paying the same price for every baking powder on the market. There is just as much difference in talcum powders, but few people know it, and all powders sell at about the same price.

You owe it to yourself to be careful what you put on your face. It is just as important as what you eat.

The talcum we sell is made from the purest and best materials. It costs us more than the other kind but it DOESN'T COST YOU ANY MORE. If it pays us to sell this kind on a far smaller margin of profit, it stands to reason that it pays you to buy it.

"As fast as we can we are displacing the Standard Oil brands and manufacturing similar brands of our own."

Afterward the state brought out the fact that some of the Standard Oil products are "standard," that is that the Magnolia in some cases in ordering a certain brand from the Standard Oil of New York could get the same grade from the Standard Oil of Indiana if it chose. Which of these two companies the Magnolia would buy from, Mr. Eble said, depends largely on from what points the best freight rates to Texas can be secured. Answering Mr. Sweeton's questions, he said so far as he knows, Standard Oil products are not sold generally to any Texas oil concerns except the Magnolia and Pierce-Fordyce.

Mr. Eble testified that in the two years since he organized the Magnolia sales department he has planned to expand into Louisiana, New Mexico and Oklahoma, the latter state being the only point where Magnolia agencies have actually been established. He said lack of sufficient finances had been the only thing to keep him from getting to all these states. He said he had been very active in Texas constructing warehouses or tanks at the average of one for every two and one-half days, since the Magnolia's sales department was organized.

A Hypothetical Query.

Mr. Sweeton put a hypothetical question. He asked whether Eble would establish a selling agency in Mobile if he knew that Mr. Archbold and H. C. Folger Jr., Standard Oil men, who are admitted the owners of the majority of the Magnolia stock, were in business at Mobile with a Standard Oil agency. Eble said he would go ahead and establish the station.

"Wouldn't you consult Mr. Archbold first?" Sweeton asked.

Two Pierce-Fordyce price lists found in Mr. Eble's department were introduced in evidence by the state also a Standard Oil of Indiana price list.

STATES' WITNESS BALKS IN DISTRICT COURT CASE

E. J. Jones on Trial for Pandering, and Young Woman Refuses to Testify Against Him

The State's chief witness in the case against E. J. Jones, charged with pandering, refused to testify against him at his trial today and the State had to rely upon the testimony of a proprietress of a house in the segregated district. The proprietress was promised immunity from prosecution on any incriminating evidence she might give in testifying against the defendant.

The officers were informed some days ago that the chief witness was planning to leave the country and they placed her in jail, where she has been since that time.

Arguments are now being made in the case and it will soon go to the jury.

DIVINE ATTRIBUTES

Love and respect for those who have departed this life are two of the higher attributes that distinguish us from the lower animals.

We erect beautiful and lasting MEMORIALS to commemorate the life and death of those we hold dear, because of this DIVINE emotion we are pleased to call LOVE, yet no words in any of the love or dead languages can encompass or express the things of the heart, or the thoughts and emotions that make of us more than beings of less intelligence.

There is a distinction between frailty and robust health, between wisdom and ignorance, between morality and immorality, but there is no distinction between LOVE and MEMORY. That which clothes in a mantle of charity and wreathes in forget-me-nots.

We express these divine emotions as nearly as the human hand and loving hearts can, with our LASTING MEMORIALS.
